

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

The foregoing amendment and the following arguments are provided to impart precision to the claims, by more particularly pointing out the invention, rather than to avoid prior art.

35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, Rejections

Examiner rejected claim 11 under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention.

Appropriate correction has been made with the foregoing amendment to claim 11.

35 U.S.C. § 102(b) Rejections

Examiner rejected claims 1-15 under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 5,389,738 (hereinafter "Piosenka").

To anticipate a claim, the reference must teach every element of the claim. A claim is anticipated only if each and every element as set forth in the claim is found, either expressly or inherently described, in a single prior art reference." (Manual of Patent Examining Procedures (MPEP) ¶ 2131.)

Applicant's independent claims include limitations not disclosed nor suggested by Piosenka. Therefore, Applicant's independent claims are not anticipated by Piosenka.

In particular, applicant's independent claims 1, 5, 9, and 12, include the limitation, or limitation similar thereto, of:

a capacitor formed with a dielectric including the dielectric encasing elements of the circuit;
a detector to detect changes in the capacitance of the capacitor; and approximately parallel conductors located proximate to circuit elements to protect from tampering. (Applicant's claim 1 as amended herein.)

Piosenka does not disclose nor suggest approximately parallel conductors located proximate to circuit elements to protect from tampering, as is claimed by applicant. Therefore, considering applicant's independent claims include limitations that are not disclosed nor suggested by Piosenka, applicant's independent claims are not anticipated by Piosenka.

Furthermore, the remaining claims that were also rejected as being anticipated by Piosenka, depend from one of the independent claims discussed above and therefore also include the distinguishing claim limitations. As a result, the remaining claims are also not anticipated by Piosenka.
